Overall Comments
<ul style="list-style-type: none"> - The evidence used to support arguments are good and shown through sufficient research, - intonation when you are presenting can be improved to increase engagement in your presentation. - Unable to capture voice clearly. The video submission did not show a reasonable quality as the playback speed may have changed.
Note: I understand that you have tried to include several supporting cases in your presentation, which reflects the thoroughness of your research. However, due to the limited 5-minute duration, the sheer volume of cases hindered clarity and audibility for the audience. To enhance the audience's experience, consider delving deeper into a specific question or case, allowing for a more comprehensive analysis. The same question has been answered before: https://edstem.org/au/courses/12787/discussion/1556334
